THIRTY-NINTH YEAR NO. 2.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO

NEW YEAR

Improvement For Kenia Avenue.

Kenia avenue will have an improvement that will make quite a change on that street. Work has already started on the Welford blacksmith shop preparing to move the front part of the building to the rear where it will be used for the wood working department.

The middle section of the building will be converted into a room with cement floor to be used in connection with the up stairs for painting baggage and automobiles, an elevator to be placed in this part of the building. There has become more of a demand for auto painting than other vehicles and for that reason changes will be made to accommodate the trade.

This section of the building to be added is said to be one of the best structures in town. No other place can be found as to where the building was when Josiah H. Welford occupied the place for 20 years and it was from here that his wagons and buggies were made. During the war the building was used as a hospital and conducted by J. H. Welford, and conducted by J. H. Welford for 20 years ago when the building was built and more than 10 years.

The building was built on a double lot and the age between the lot and the lot property is 10 years.

GETS LIFE CERTIFICATE.

Mrs. Ada Clow, nee Ada Allen, Cedarville College, 1910, is the first graduate of the local college to obtain a life certificate to teach in high schools and to superintend schools under the new school law of Ohio. Mrs. Clow obtained a four-year provisional certificate last summer, and would have obtained a life certificate then but lacked two months' experience and was given the provisional certificate instead. But by the time of the holiday meeting of the State Board of Examiners she had qualified in every respect, and the life certificate was granted without question. This certificate was granted on the basis of graduation from a recognized college and fifty months of experience as a teacher.

Both of these certificates were granted entirely without examination of any sort, and are indications of the advantages now enjoyed by Cedarville graduates.

Mrs. Clow is now employed as instructor in Latin and German in Crawford Institute, a public academy and normal school located at Lancaster. The place was secured through the Cedarville College Employment Bureau.

Mrs. Clow expects to teach a class in the Cedarville Summer School next summer, and at the same time do work towards the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

"For Christ and the Truth", our motto for 1916.

"We shall be glad to hear of our friends having 'largeness of heart' (1 Kings 1:30).

We have our moments of depression when we wonder if anybody ever reads what is printed in the Chimes column.

January First.

Under the law, members of council, township trustees and members of the board of education must organize on the first day of January, all other officers chosen at the last election taking their office that same day.

Mayor McFarland gives way to Mayor-elect McLean; M. W. Collins takes J. O. Townsley's place as justice; J. C. Barber will take A. McLean's place on the board of education; W. H. Barber succeeds J. E. Cooper as township treasurer; B. E. McFarland takes Mr. Barber's seat in council. The other officers hold over.

Walt & Foust will hold their annual sale of Duroc bred sows Friday, February 4, 1916, at Cedar Vale Farm, at which time they will sell sixty-five head of chosen stock. Don't forget the date.

The Lost Has Returned.

Mr. O. M. Potter dropped into town the first of the week regardless of the fact that he was supposed to have gone down with the ill-fated Eastland steamer in Chicago river last summer. Mr. Potter would like to meet the gentleman that started the report that caused much anxiety amongst his friends at the time and caused relatives to seek his whereabouts.

It did happen Mr. Potter says that he was in Chicago that very day and he was not two squares from the river front. As soon as he learned of the accident he rushed to the river front where for hours he witnessed the awful sight of taking the hundreds of drowned from the river.

Of late Mr. Potter has been located in the northern part of the state engaged on a newspaper, his favorite pastime. He is taking a short vacation and has been in Cincinnati where he spent a day or so with his old friend and companion, John Bryan, the sage of Yellow Springs.

Sleet Ties Up Traffic.

Snow and sleet caused much damage to the telephone and telegraph lines in this section Wednesday and Thursday. A large part of the telephones were out of service owing to lines and poles being down. The local company has an extra force at work making repairs. It was necessary to shut off the electric lights Wednesday.

The railroads and traction lines have had their trouble as well and many trains were late due to track conditions. The steel smoke stack at the paper mill fell Wednesday night across part of the building doing considerable damage. No one was injured yet several were near at the time.

Had Something in Him.
Rev. Hubert Holbert Jones had preached what he thought was a great Christmas sermon. On the way home from church he came upon a youth sitting doubled up on the steps of a domicile. Wishing to admonish this young person for what he took to be laziness, he stepped up to him and said:—
"Don't sit there like that, my boy; this is Christmas. Get up and stir yourself; you certainly must have something in you."
"I've got a big Christmas dinner in me," was the forced reply, "and I can't move."

Must Fight For License.

Dispatches Wednesday say that state officials will refuse to grant the Geiger-Jones Co. a renewal of their license to sell stocks and bonds in this state, the 1915 license expiring Dec. 31. While the state banking department has charge of the "blue sky" law operation and has been charged as being more than friendly to the Geiger-Jones company, disclosure of the methods of doing business in a recent injunction suit heard in the U. S. Court in Cincinnati, has caused the state officials to indicate there will be no renewal of the license.

If the banking department should grant a license it is certain Attorney General Turner would seek restraining orders. Mr. Turner states that a decision from the U. S. Court now would concern only a moot question and that he will not ask for same.

The only thing the Geiger-Jones Co. can do now is to bring a mandamus suit against the state banking department for a license. To do business without such a license will result in prosecution of the company and its agents.

Another case in the U. S. Court Tuesday was from Cleveland where W. R. Rose is testing the "blue sky" law. Rose had been convicted in the Common Pleas Court in Cleveland sometime ago for violating this law. During the arguments in the U. S. Court Rose not only made a verbal attack on Turner, but attempted physical assault, being checked by court attaches.

SABBATH SCHOOL REVIEW.

Review by the U. P. Sabbath School of the lessons of the last quarter of the year 1915.

The following members of the school read papers on the characters of the men and their work spoken of in the lessons. All good. Luke Henderson, Elijah; Hugh Turnbull, Anab; Merle Jobe, Naomant; Mrs. J. E. Kyle, Elizabeth; Rev. Parks Jackson, "The Babe of Bethlehem." He read a poem of his own composition on "A Savior born in Bethlehem," which we publish in this issue.

The 23rd Psalm was then sung by the school as the people of one hundred years ago sang it. Rev. McMichael and Jackson stood before the pulpit, "lived out" and led the school. This was done to show the young people how our fathers and mothers conducted public worship in their day.

How blest the hour of Jesus' birth! The Savior from above! We hail with joy the new time, And celebrate his birth.

A King who will be born, The Savior born in Bethlehem. Who knows the time, the place, The day that dawned so bright, Yet plainly 'tis seen:

He came from heaven to earth; The day may not be fixed by men, That He was born in Bethlehem! A peasant virgin gave him birth.

The inn, a rustic stable, His form was wrapped in swaddling bands, A manger was his cradle, And shepherds first were shown the gem, A Savior born in Bethlehem.

Those herdsmen watched their flocks by night, While stars bedecked the skies, A brilliant light shone from above, That dimmed their drowsy eyes, When angels sang this song to them, A Savior born in Bethlehem.

The scene was strange—a great surprise! The brilliant light not long, But sure they saw the angels bright, And heard their heavenly song Sound o'er thy hills, Jerusalem, A Savior born in Bethlehem!

What was the burden of their song? "Glory to God on high!" And "Peace on earth!" swelled from their lips.

"Good will to men!" they cry; Of who will now in heart condemn, The Savior born in Bethlehem! All beings feel the magic spell, Salvation's in the air, Angels sing with loftier joy, And devils in despair, For crowned is He with diadem, The Savior born in Bethlehem!

Let those who hear this angel song, This oratorio, Swell the seraph anthem loud, That all both high and low May praise the Rod from Jesse's stem, "A Savior born in Bethlehem!"

To Be Taken Literally.

The curtain has dropped on the first act of the amateur play, "Ladies and gentlemen," said the youthful stage manager, stepping in the front of the stage, "you will observe that the program says that there is an interval of two years between the first and second acts. This will be fully carried out. The leading lady has just awarded the powder puff under the impression that it was a macramé, and I think it will be about that time before she will be able to go on."

Untutored Tongue.

The philosophy of the untutored tongue, most northerly of the Albertan, is "Eat much and laugh much." The gospel of conviviality is over the same the world over. Civilized man says, "Eat, drink and be merry." By their lack of refining influences the Tongues merely lose such privileges as tipping the hat boy or hiring tables in advance for New Year's eve. That is all—New Year's eve.

Ancient Dentistry.

Dentistry seems to have been practiced on this side of the ocean almost as early as in Europe or Asia. It is quite likely, indeed, that the art of filling teeth was first discovered here. At any rate, pre-Columbian skulls from both Mexico and Mexico are in evidence having teeth richly inlaid with gold and in some instances precious stones.

BIG IMPETUS FOR ESTABROOK BOOM

"Dark Horse" For Republican Presidential Nomination.

NATIONAL DEFENSE PIONEER

Known as Fearless Advocate of Traditional Republican Principles—Also Recognized as One of Ablest Campaigners in United States.

Far and away the most interesting phase of the national political situation is the movement that has brought Henry D. Estabrook, of New York and Nebraska, so prominently to the front as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. First spoken of as a possibility in connection with the presidency less than six months ago, Mr. Estabrook is today one of the leading candidates, with evidence of strength that give a source of concern to the friends of the other aspirants.

He has made speeches in every important city in the East, Middle West, and Far West, an arduous campaign experience that has put him in excellent condition to meet the rigorous demands made on the head of a party's national ticket, and his record in Nebraska and other States have earned Estabrook organizations and are today after national delegates in the most vigorous fashion. Impartial observers agree that the development of the Estabrook boom has no parallel in the political history of the last 25 years, and they are beginning to inquire whether the popular demand for new leadership is not being met by the vigorous rise of a subject he speaks with the authority of one who has mastered it. His comparisons are invariably sound, and, once he has arrived at them, they are proclaimed frankly and fearlessly, for he is essentially a man with the courage of his convictions.

For instance: he has been one of the most ardent critics of President Wilson and the present Democratic administration, arraigning them for their tariff law which he "ruined the federal treasury and which places the American farmer, the American manufacturer, and the American laborer at the mercy of foreign competition, and for a foreign policy which has destroyed the respect that the American flag and American citizens once commanded in every quarter of the globe.

A Preparation Pioneer. Likewise Mr. Estabrook was the first man prominently before the public to outline a concrete program of national defense, which he presented in an address before the American Bankers' Association September 8th last at Seattle, characterized by the Seattle Times as "one of the most remarkable addresses ever delivered in the Northwest," and he was the first Republican leader to point the way to the reunion and harmonizing of all elements of the party, his "Get-Together" plan before the McKinley Club of Omaha, Nebraska, last October, having attracted wide-spread attention.

From the time Mr. Estabrook opened the Republican National campaign in Chicago in 1896 he has been recognized as one of the ablest campaigners in the United States, and there have been few speakers in greater demand. The issue in the great contest of 1910, which is to restore the Republican party to the administration of national affairs, will be Protection, Prosperity, and Preparedness. In Mr. Estabrook's judgment, with "Get-Together" as the slogan for Republicans of every shade of opinion. He has been preaching this gospel in all sections of the country, and has met with enthusiastic reception everywhere he has gone.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 1:1-4.

GOLDEN TEXT—When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.—Eph. 4:8.

More and more we are convinced that the great trouble with Christians is that the life of Jesus for them closes with the gospel. We seem in fact to comprehend that he is living today as much and even more than he was nineteen hundred years ago. The Book of Acts is a continuation of the Gospel (v. 1), and is yet a closed book.

I. The Proof of the Resurrection, vv. 1-4. (1) Its reality. No better proof event is recorded in history than the resurrection (see 1 Cor. 15:4-8); it stands absolutely unchallenged. The all-sufficient proof was that during the night of the resurrection, the disciples were gathered in the upper room, and Jesus appeared to them, and he was clothed with power, (c) to go forth and in proclaim or herald his gospel. During those intervening days of waiting for the endowment with power they alone knew the gospel and men were perishing, which gives point to the necessity of receiving the spirit before undertaking the work of witness.

II. The Promise of the Father, vv. 4-5. Read carefully Joel 2:28, Isa. 44:3, and compare with Luke 24:49, and also the words of the Baptizer, Luke 3:16. (1) To receive the Holy Spirit is an obligation on all. They were "baptized not with water only" (v. 4). (See also Eph. 5:18). (b) The reception is to be preceded by repentance for sin, though the confession of sin and the acknowledgment of Christ as Savior is only possible through the spirit (1 Cor. 12:13). (c) With the gift comes the power and authority (v. 7). This power is of God; it is spiritual, it is not "temporal" nor of the church. The kingdom is the "Holy Spirit." The program of Jesus is "spiritual," his kingdom is "heavenly," "beginning at Jerusalem." This promise of Jesus (v. 8) suggested to the disciples the restoration of Israel to its place among the nations and in his reply he intimates that such is a possibility (see Isa. 44:26, Jer. 31:10, 31:13, 31:15, 31:21, 31:22, 31:23, 31:24, 31:25, 31:26, 31:27, 31:28, 31:29, 31:30, 31:31, 31:32, 31:33, 31:34, 31:35, 31:36, 31:37, 31:38, 31:39, 31:40, 31:41, 31:42, 31:43, 31:44, 31:45, 31:46, 31:47, 31:48, 31:49, 31:50, 31:51, 31:52, 31:53, 31:54, 31:55, 31:56, 31:57, 31:58, 31:59, 31:60, 31:61, 31:62, 31:63, 31:64, 31:65, 31:66, 31:67, 31:68, 31:69, 31:70, 31:71, 31:72, 31:73, 31:74, 31:75, 31:76, 31:77, 31:78, 31:79, 31:80, 31:81, 31:82, 31:83, 31:84, 31:85, 31:86, 31:87, 31:88, 31:89, 31:90, 31:91, 31:92, 31:93, 31:94, 31:95, 31:96, 31:97, 31:98, 31:99, 31:100).

When they were to receive the kingdom he does not tell, but when they should receive power he tells them plainly, "when the spirit should come upon them." The spirit is not for mere happiness or gratification, but comes upon us for usefulness (see 4:28, 21, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29) and that beginning at home, in Jerusalem, then to the ends of the earth. A spiritual kingdom or church is a good home, industry and foreign evangelism, well, maintaining his message, he lifted his hands and in benediction he ascended on high, and this act has ever since been continued. His ascension is a blessed historical fact, fully attested and deeply significant; he ascended to lead captivity captive, to appear in God's presence for us in our behalf and to prepare a place for us that where he is we may be also (Eph. 2:6, John 14:2). His presence now on high guarantees our presence there hereafter (John 12:26, 14:3, Rev. 2:1).

III. The Present Place of Jesus, vv. 5-7. While he talked with his disciples he ascended even as Enosh walked "and was not" (Gen. 5:24, Heb. 9:26, R. V.). The query must naturally have arisen in their minds, "When shall we have another interview with him?" As that question arose behold two were sent to answer (v. 10) and their answer was a practical one: "Why stand looking into heaven?" There are times to gaze and times to go. Now is the time to be fulfilling his command (vv. 4, 12) and not to be lost in wonder and speculation. But to cheer their hearts these men in white gave them, and us, a wonderful promise, viz., Jesus is coming back, visibly, personally (the words of the original text are very plain and positive), and as he was received in the clouds, he will come in a cloud.

This promise is and has always been the great hope of the church (Titus 2:13). IV. The Place of Prayer, vv. 12-14. The disciples were bidden to tarry, to tarry at a specified place, Jerusalem, and to tarry at a specified place for a particular purpose, viz., "power." They obeyed. The empowering blessing can only be received through obedience (Acts 5:32). The time of waiting was not idle, nor listlessly passed, for it was spent in prayer. Jesus is yet, and shall ever more, be doing and teaching for and through those who love him, who look for his glorious appearing.

Next Sunday's lesson is the record of the answer to their prayer.
